

BRIAN RAFFERTY
Founder and Chief Executive, Taylor Rafferty

Brian Rafferty, Founder and Chief Executive, Taylor Rafferty, has for over 30 years specialized in assisting companies with their global investor relations and capital markets communications. He has advised some of the world's premier companies with their strategic capital markets campaigns, with a disciplined focus on building investor relations programs that create economic value working towards measurable targets and goals.

He Chairs Project Rebirth, the non-profit that created the Peabody Award winning documentary "Rebirth," content featured in the 9/11 Museum, and resilience programming for First Responders, Military & Veterans and Community Leaders and Educators. He serves on Georgetown University's Board of Regents as well as in formal and informal advisory roles for several global non-profit organizations.

